Dominica Geothermal Risk Mitigation Project Contract
Subject: Bid Clarification 0014 – Part I, Section III, Table 4 Experience factor 4.2(a)
Bid Document Clause: Part I, Section III, Table 4 Experience factor 4.2(a)
Detailed description of request Specific Experience requirements included in Part I, Section III, Table 4 Experience factor 4.2(a) mentions that, Bidders and/or JV Members combined shall also meet the requirements in terms of operations and maintenance of geothermal power plants including steamfield gathering facilities. Being O&M services excluded by the scope of this Bid, Operations and Maintenance requirements should not be required as Specific Experience. In case of such requirements remained part of the Specific Experience Criteria, activities such as: - monitoring of operating conditions and process parameters - check of performances and optimizations of operating conditions - troubleshooting can be considered as specific experience in operations?
Enclosures: None
Response: Part I, Section III, Table 4 Experience factor 4.2(a) seeks to add some definition of what work constitutes “similar” experience. The Contract scope includes aspects related to O&M, including but not limited to the following items, and for this reason O&M is included in the definition of “similar” experience: - Preparation of O&M manuals - Preparation of O&M training material - Preparation of O&M system - Training of DGDC staff and its contractors in O&M activities - Designing a Plant that will take into account future O&M activities – adequate access etc - Provide O&M support for two years from operational acceptance Experience similar to the list outlined above would constitute similar experience. The activities outlined by the Bidder in the description of the request above could also be considered to contribute towards O&M experience.
